

Mind's Eye Kent – the EKST student magazine - is excited to announce that it will be producing a special issue on the theme of “lockdown”. Students from each EKST school are invited to submit articles for publication.

<https://www.mindseymagazine.com/mindseyekent-issue3>

We asked its creator, Mr Lyons from The King's School, a few questions about this special issue.

Why write?

Many of you will have been keeping journals, as well as writing for your school work. We'd love to encourage you to write for a bigger audience of your peers – but using ordinary everyday language. Through writing we can make sense of things, especially in these strange times. Using words we can in a way impose order on our world.

What should I write about?

- ✎ We'd like articles related to “Lockdown in Kent” – your own subjective experiences or something more objective
- ✎ It's a journalistic magazine so we're not asking for creative writing, so no poems or stories
- ✎ There's no need to include references but pictures or photos are very much encouraged, especially your own! (Though we can add these too.)
- ✎ You can check the content with your English teacher, and articles will be edited by me
- ✎ Have a look at previous issues as a guide to the sort of tone and length we're looking for:
www.mindseymagazine.com

Who can submit an article?

- ✓ Any student from any school in EKST – and you can co-author an article with someone from your school or another EKST school (ask your EKST Student Voice rep to put you in touch with another school if so).
- ✓ Especially if you're leaving your school at the end of this term this could be a great way of 'signing off'.

What do I do next?

- ✎ Write your article in Microsoft Word
- ✎ It should be between 250 and 750 words
- ✎ Put your name, age and school at the top
- ✎ Email it to me, Mr Lyons, at ajwl@kings-school.co.uk

Timeline

- 🕒 The final deadline for submissions is 8 June
- 🕒 You will be told if your article has been accepted by 15 June
- 🕒 The issue will be published online by end of June and maybe printed too
- 🕒 A £20 Amazon voucher will be awarded for the most engaging article

